

Students' comments about the fair

- "The health career fair is a must for anyone interested in pre-Med." (T.)
- "Every student who is undecided should always go!" (K.)
- "I didn't really expect to learn much from the career fair when I first came to it. However, I was extremely wrong... I learned about health fields that I had never really heard about along with what is needed from me in the area of medicine I am in right now... I am much more knowledgeable of opportunities in the medical world. I don't have to be a physician to practice medicine. I'm glad I got the chance to attend the fair." (KW.)
- "I didn't realize that a naturopathic doctor could do quite so much.... I also did not know that NDs take the same boards as MDs. That is definitely something I will have to look into." (M.)
- "I was very interested in learning about Pharmacy schools, and received a lot of information about them." (E.)
- "I never quite knew what acupuncture did for people until I talked to the representative." (K.)
- "Schools' info was reassuring and motivational to strive for good grades and work hard. It was nice to be able to ask questions about GPA and MCAT scores and get a general idea from multiple schools." I put aside some of the biases I've had against out-of-state medical programs. If any thing it reassures a student that you are wanted even though there is a lot of competition." (B.)
- "I learned of the opportunity to study medical research as a way of being involved in medicine, but also researching." (M.)
- "I am very glad that this career fair was required for the class. I normally would not have attended, but am very glad now that I did." (K.)
- "The Kaplan test preparation table was by far the most useful. The people that were working the tables were all very nice and I found it to be a useful health fair." (C.)
- "I now have a plan B and C if Medical school turns out to not be an option." (C.)
- "I spent most of my time talking with the Air Force about their program and how they can pay for your college. This might be a realistic option for me since money is tight. I was impressed with the fair as a whole." (D.)
- "Even though I am still a few years away it doesn't hurt to start looking early." (N.)
