

1. How do IEEE floating point numbers differ from numbers in scientific notation?
2. Why are there limits on the size of floats?
3. What is the meaning of an INF number?
4. What is the meaning of a NAN number?
5. What are the largest and smallest exponents that a float may have?